

DEXON CANADA AIR SYSTEMS INC.

Dear Valued Customer,

In light of recent and developing events surrounding the coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic, Dexon is taking the necessary measures to ensure the safety of our employees while continuing service to our customers. We understand that we are all facing unprecedented and challenging times with a great deal of uncertainty.

For the time being we will reduce and structure production to minimize employee interactions and where possible work from home. We will continue to respond to emails as quickly and effectively as possible but we do expect some delays in shipment of current and upcoming orders. If you have concerns over these delays please contact Dexon directly via email to sales@dexoncanada.com.

We urge everyone to continue practicing recommended safe procedures and to stay safe.
